

The Judiciary

One Judicial Pool feeds every federal court. The same eligibility floor, the same nomination-and-confirmation pattern, all the way from a district bench to the Supreme Court — with a vacancy cascade that never leaves a seat empty.

§4.1 – §4.6, §9.4.a
14 provisions

THREE TIERS, ONE SOURCE

The Judicial Pool — §4.2, §9.4.a

One unified pool feeds every federal judicial appointment. Entry requires 15 years of legal practice or 10 years of judicial service, no current government position, and no disqualifying financial interest — the same floor for an inferior court nominee and a Supreme Court nominee alike. The Elections Panel administers it; the JM audits it; the pool is publicly accessible on the NRS at all times.

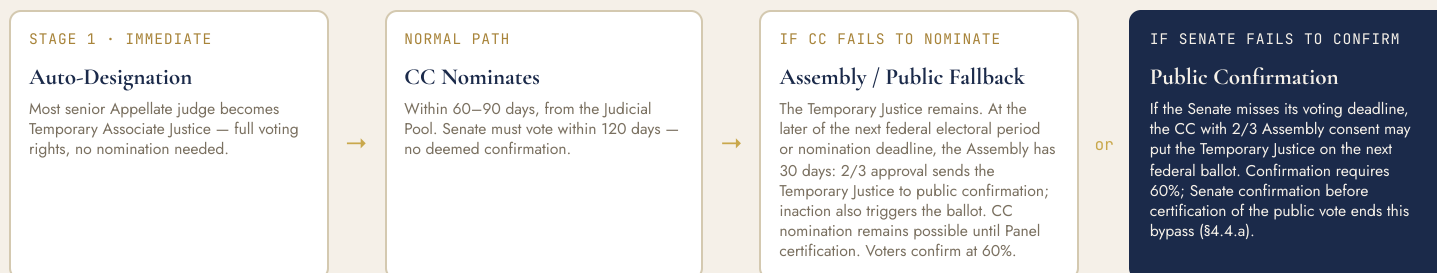

Inferior Court Judge

CC NOMINATES → SENATE CONFIRMS 2/3 → 12-YEAR TERM

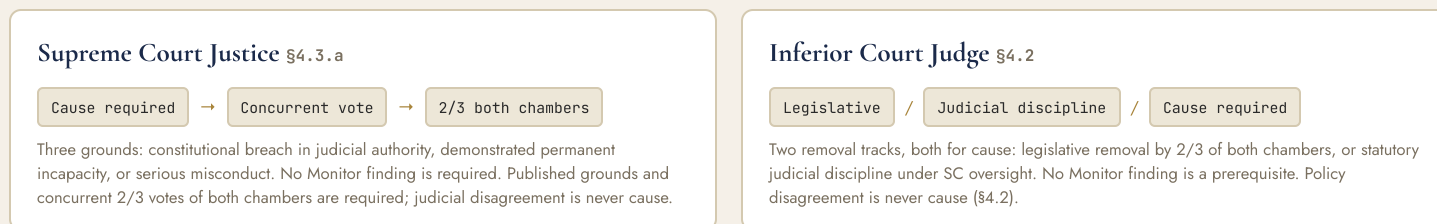

Supreme Court Justice

CC NOMINATES → SENATE CONFIRMS 2/3 (120 DAYS) → 12-YEAR TERM

WHEN A SUPREME COURT SEAT OPENS UNEXPECTEDLY — §4.4, §4.4.A

HOW A JUDGE LEAVES

NUMBERS WORTH REMEMBERING

12 years — single non-renewable term, identical for inferior court judges and SC justices alike. No reappointment, ever.

5

justices minimum to decide a constitutional question — regardless of how many seats are currently filled.

48h

maximum for the SC to rule on immediate defensive military authority — the Court sets its own procedures for expedited review.